CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Elder Buck, pastor of the Christian church at Ghent, was married to Miss Lida Penn.

—Elder D. G. Cambs' meeting at Flatwoods, Madison county, has had 62 additions, and the meeting continues.

—Elder George Gowen's meeting at McCormack is progressing finely with seven additions to date. It will continue over Sunday.

—Rev. W. R. Dudley, of the Methodist church at Hamilton, O., has been suspended for a year for obtaining goods under false pretenses.

—Rev. W. E. Hinshaw, a young Methodist preacher, is on trial at Danville, Ind., for the murder of his wife and accidental developments are looked for.

—The will of Millionaire M. A. Payne, of Malvern, Ia., leaves $20,000 to the board of church extension of the Methodist church South, located in Louisville.

—Honors, like troubles, rarely come singly. W. L. Kline Thomas was elected moderator of his association on his return from Boston, where the Knight Templars made him their highest officer.

—Elder Joe Severance, Jr., has returned from Harrison county, where he held a 10-days meeting at Unity, which besides warning up the members, resulted in the addition of three to the church.

—Henry Hainnell, a white laborer, stole a Bible from a merchant at Chattanooga and when caught up with said: "I didn't mean anything wrong. I wanted to read it and had no money to buy it." He was released and presented with one.

—Elder J. S. Kendrick will be absent in Texas during October. He will attend the general convention of his church at Dallas and prior to that will conduct a meeting at Athens, Texas. He used to be pastor of the church at Dallas.—Advocate.

—Rev. Henry E. Davis has been asked to resign his pastorate at Ansonia, Conn., because of his open declaration that working people should have their amusement on Sunday and because he organized a base ball team from the members of his church just after preaching one Sunday morning.

—After a pastorate of four years, the limit under the Methodist itinerancy, Rev. W. E. Arnold will preach his farewell sermon here next Sunday morning. His labors in this field have been greatly blessed and no pastor has ever won a warmer place in the hearts of his people than he. The church will be fortunate if the conference about to convene will send another preacher even measurably so acceptable.

CRAB ORCHARD.

(Intended for last issue.)

—Miss Lottie Dillon has returned home from an extended visit to friends in Danville, Richmond and other places during the summer. Miss Alice Moore went over to Lancaster to be present with "The Boys" Friday evening and will spend some days with friends there. Miss Marie Leavelle, accompanied by Mr. Doty, came over from Point Leavelle Saturday to spend a few days with friends. Dr. Guy Payne is up from Livingston for a few days with home folks. Mrs. Alice Newland is on an extended trip to Middleboro, Cumberland Gap, Knoxville and other points South.

—The meeting of the Lincoln County Teachers' Association, which met here at 10 o'clock A. M., Saturday, was more than a success. The program was both entertaining and instructive and was well received from start to finish. The welcome address by Prof. Scott Anderson could not have been beaten. Scott showed up the good points about Crab Orchard and her citizens as few others could. The response by Prof. C. H. Holmes was also good. The remaining part of the morning program composed of a paper on school management by Miss Maybelle Payne; a vocal solo by Miss Eva Steger and other things scarcely less excellent were very interesting and well received. In the afternoon Dr. Doores, one of O. O.'s best physicians, gave a short lecture on Physiology and Hygiene. Papers by Miss Georgia Lewis and Supt. Miss Kate Blain and a recitation by Miss Beesie Payne were among the many good things additional on the afternoon program. The question box was opened and many questions of importance and interest were asked and expatiated upon by the talent present. The Hon. Fontaine Fox Bobbitt, "The Olerio of the Mountains," was a prominent factor. The teachers all expressed themselves delighted with the day spent in our little town and we only wish there had been more of them here to partake of our good things to eat and to drink of the life-giving waters of historic old Crab Orchard.

LANCASTER, CARRARD COUNTY.

—The Dixie Club was entertained Monday night by John M. Farra at his home on Stanford street.

—Miss Julia May Gaines entertained the young members of the "juvenile set" at her home on Richmond street Tuesday evening.

—Miss Sallie Anderson's kindergarten school opened on Monday. Miss Anderson has taught a most successful school for four consecutive years.

—Dr. Halleck Bailou, of Bryantville, was engaged in a difficulty on Tuesday with Alvin Estes, of this place, and fired his pistol at him, but failed to hit him. Estes had attempted to strike Bailou first.

—Died on Wednesday of consumption in this county a few miles of Lancaster, Mrs. George A. Arnold. Burial on Thursday in the Lancaster Cemetery. Mrs. Arnold was a Miss Logan, sister of Messrs. John M. and H. N. T. Logan.

—In the trial of Lapsley Clark for attempt at robbing the store-room of R. H. Batsou, the jury failed to agree. The other brother, an accomplice of Lapsley, will also have his trial this court. There are several indictments against him.

—The Methodists of this community are to build a new church soon upon the present site. They have already as much as $1,200 subscribed and $500 more promised to them by the Methodist State board. They hope eventually to raise enough funds to build a $4,000 structure.

—Prof. Darnaby, of Lexington, and Miss Maury, of Knoxville, Tenn., have accepted the two remaining vacancies in the graded school here. Garrard College is being much adorned and improved by being papered, painted and new furniture added for the new professor and his full corps of teachers.

—The meeting at New Antioch continues and grows in interest under the able ministry of Elders J. M. Boswell, of Tennessee, and Graham Frank, of Lexington. Crowded houses greet the zealous young workers and a number of Lancaster people attend and report much enthusiasm and good preaching.

—Miss May Hughes, an accomplished and persevering musician, leaves next week for Cotner University at Bethany, Nebraska, as the music teacher in that institution. As this is Miss Hughes' third year her friends and relatives think it quite a compliment to her as well as a proof of her proficiency in music.

—Mrs. H. O. Payne, of Athens, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Ann Hopper. Mrs. J. Joseph and children have returned from a visit to relatives in Eaton, O. Emanuel Hayden, of Jessamine, is visiting his cousin, Brannon Beesley. Miss Florence Jenkins, of Danville, is the guest of Miss Maud Robinson. Miss Susie Zanone is visiting her aunt, Miss Mary Traylor, in Lincoln. Miss Olivia Sweeney is visiting relatives in Somerset and enjoying the fair. Mr. John M. Orand has returned to his home in Waco, Texas, after a visit of several weeks to the family of H. C. Jennings. Miss Lizzie Steele, of Nicholasville, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. T. B. Walker. Rev. C. M. Reid, of Colorado, is here the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Reid.

Governor McCreary is in the prime of life and is a man of the highest integrity and most admirable abilities. In his own district he is so highly regarded that he always held it safe for the democratic party. When other districts have been close, and sometimes have faltered, Governor McCreary has always been able to hold the eighth perfectly secure. He is a man who in political and private life is so true to his friends and to his promises that his word is as good as his bond. As Senator he would be a credit to his State, and would be a valuable assistant in furthering the welfare of Kentucky. In Congress he has always occupied a high position, and he always commanded the respect of every administration since he has been in public life.—Louisville Truth.

BROADHEAD, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—For two long and wearisome weeks the people here have been bored almost to death with some five or six of what I call tramp preachers, because they are not recognized by any church on the face of the earth. If they are on the Lord's side, I ask in the name of God why don't some Christian organization open their doors and take them under their wings? On the contrary, they have not where to lay their heads and in many places where they are known the doors are shut in their faces. In other places, I am told, they have been shut out and would occupy colored churches and shelter in their houses at night with them.

I am told on good authority that in this meeting just closed there has been the most shameful conduct, such as rolling on the floor in the dirt, shouting and screaming as though Gabriel had blown his trumpet as a signal for a finish up here on this earth.

I am also told they have what I term a red-faced Irishman along who by the move of the hand or wink of the eye is always ready to jump to his feet and shout at the top of his voice, "Glory glory hallelujah, I am saved, I am sanctified," and all such stuff which is calculated to excite the weaker class and prepare them for the lunatic asylum. I learn that two of our young ladies who claim to be sanctified are now making preparations to travel with the tramp preachers who are perfect strangers to those poor girls. I advise them to stay in their fathers' kitchen, let it be ever so humble. These girls and the red-faced Irishman are the side show attached to sanctification. After the sermon is over then they rise to their feet, screaming and clapping their hands to alarm poor feeble minded souls and cause them to rush frantically into their snare set for them.

Surber and Mart Southern were up from Pulaski with a bunch of stock hogs, which they sold to Eubanks Bros. at about 4 1/2c.

—Mt. Xenia.—Hogs are dying in this neighborhood with what is supposed to be cholera. Stock water is getting exceedingly scarce on many farms. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Staggs entertained a number of friends Wednesday by giving a big dinner in honor of their beloved pastor, Rev. W. E. Arnold, and wife. Quite a number of applications have been secured for the organization of a Mt. Xenia Maccabee lodge, the people taking bold of the matter very readily.

A mountain editor thus appeal to his delinquent subscribers: "If you have frequent headaches, dizziness and fainting spells, chills, epilepsy and jaundice, it is a sign that you are not well and are liable to die at any minute. Pay your subscription two years in advance, and thus make yourself solid for a good obituary notice."

Senator W. M. Stewart, the editor of the Silver Knight, prints this beautiful little editorial: "The biggest liar from Lanesville is an angel beside the scold, mercenary, soul-betraggled satellite of Wall street, who is eternally shrieking that the cause of free silver is dead."

"There's one thing I don't understand," said little Harry. "That's why good tasting things like pie make me sick, while bad tasting things like medicine make me well. It ought to be the other way."

Said a little boy who, during a visit to Florida, was obliged to drink condensed milk, "Mamma, I just wish that condensed cow would die!"

STANFORD, KY., SEPTEMBER 6, 1935

W. P. WALTON.

Gov. O'Farrell, of Virginia, has announced his candidacy for U. S. Senator on a sound money platform. In his letter he shows the folly of attempting to maintain a parity between gold and silver under a free silver coinage law, not approved by the leading nations, and shows how ruinous such a policy would be especially from a farmer's standpoint. In answer to the charge that his present attitude on the question is inconsistent with his course in Congress, he says he was never an out and out free silver man, but if he had been and discovered the fallacy of the policy by the closer study of the question, which he had given it, he would not hesitate to admit his error, retrace his steps and attempt to undo the injury he had done in misleading the people. He is confident that the silver craze will go the way of the green-back craze and that the question will be settled even before the next National election. The governor's bold stand induces the hope that he is backed by popular sentiment in the Old Dominion and that he will down Senator Daniel, who is making his canvass on a free silver appeal to the unthinking masses, who are ever caught with schemes which promise to make money plentiful.

A COMMITTEE of the American Protective Association attempted to inveigle Hon. A. J. Carroll, candidate for the Legislature in a Louisville district, into a secret conference, but he wisely declined its overtures and read the riot act to it and the oath bound organization it represented. He regards it as a menace to our form of government and as the legitimate descendant of the know-nothing organization, which not only proscribed citizens because of their religious belief, but because of birth, and which wrote its history in that city and country in anarchy, violence and bloodshed, and is unalterably opposed to dragging religion into politics. Mr. Carroll's position is the proper one, but it takes a candidate of considerable courage to say what he does in Louisville, where the A. P. A.'s were strong enough to elect Walter Evans to Congress over Mr. McDermott, simply because the latter is a Catholic.

Gov. BUCKNER has withdrawn from the Senatorial race, because "in many legislative districts personal interests seem arrayed against party success, and candidates supposed to be favorable to me are nevertheless a target for opposition in the party. Thus entangled with any candidacy of my own, I can the more earnestly urge the support of the whole democratic ticket and advocate the platform of principles as construed by every member of the party at the time of its adoption." Such unselfish patriotism is rare in these days of the place seeker, who usually has more brains than brains and more self assertiveness than sense. Gov. Buckner has served his State and his country long and well and if life and health still favor him, the people who love and revere him, will yet reward his sacrifice and party devotion.

PAIN, the king of pyrotechnics, will have charge of that department of the Louisville display next week and it will be of a particularly unique character. The two bridges that span the Ohio will be made into an imitation of Niagara Falls and the fireworks will be kept going just like a flow of water. Camp Caldwell is rapidly assuming a military appearance and it will be an interesting sight to see the 3,000 old veterans quartered in the 250 tents. The city will be ablaze at night with electric lights artistically arranged and flags and other patriotic emblems will give it a gala appearance at day. It will be worth a trip thither to see the air the Falls City can put on when she tries to.

Of the $13,697,617 raised by taxation in New York, three counties, Kings, New York and Erie, which are democratic, pay 63 per cent. of it. Most of the rest of the State is republican. It is the same way in Kentucky. Of the million dollars of net revenue republican counties only contribute a little over $11,000. The republican is not a tax-paying party. Neither is it a party of intelligence. Take away the unlettered whites and the ignorant negroes and there would be no republican party in Kentucky.

AN Indiana man who only served five days has made application for a pension. He enlisted, went as far as Indianapolis and was mustered out of the army five days later, the war having closed. The "rheumatiz" has struck him and he discovers 30 years afterwards that it was caused by his laying on a clod of dirt, while sleeping on the capitol grounds. A great many of the frauds on the pension rolls live off the government by claiming to have rheumatism, a disease which can be feigned without chance of discovery.

Dr. Godfrey Hunter, chairman of the republican campaign committee, doesn't hump himself his home county of Cumberland will go democratic. The county is one of the smallest in the State, but its jail is the fullest, 22 of the doctor's republican friends being incarcerated therein.

The Associated Press, which always colors its news to suit its republican proclivities, sent out a big cock and bull story about the way Col. Bradley was "hotted down" at Eminence, which was published in the N. Y. World and many other papers. One big fellow in his shirt sleeves and not ten feet from the speakers' stand yelled in fog horn tones, it says, "We won't listen to no d—d republican. We don't want no negro rule." After Col. Bradley retired, the story continues, "Gen. Hardin was called for. That gentleman came forward and in tones which denoted that he was fully as angry as Col. Bradley, told the crowd that under no consideration would he make them a speech after the way they had treated his opponent. He regretted that democrats should conduct themselves thus and hoped they would never be called upon to witness such disgraceful scenes again." All of which is a lie pure and simple, except that some drunken men were boisterous, without any specially intention, apparently, to be discourteous to the republican candidate.

Justice Brewer in his address before the bar association the other day, said that appeals in criminal cases, giving opportunities to escape on some technical plea, were undermining the strength and impairing the influence of the jury system, while it encouraged lynching as the only certain process of protecting society from the criminal. He thinks the trial jury can be better trusted to do justice to the accused than an appellate court and secure protection to the public by the speedy punishment of a criminal. "Better an occasional blunder," said he, "than the abundant reviewing of higher courts by which justice is generally delayed and often seriously defeated." As a fellow said once in speaking of a certain mineral water, the courts of appeal, especially, the Kentucky court, is entirely "too d—n technical." It is bringing the law into contempt and aggravating a spirit of mob law every time it reverses a case on a mere technicality.

The Mason-Ford Co. has shown conclusively that no State official was ever paid a large, or any other sum, out of the profits of the concern and that the charge of the Louisville Truth that a check was in existence to prove the contrary is without foundation. We are surprised that Editor Finley should have lent his aid to the dirty republican scheme to make capital.

The Louisville Post yells at the top of its voice that "Hardin must be beaten." But Hardin won't be beaten. The democracy of Kentucky is not going to turn the State over to the reds, just because Hardin has ideas on economic questions, in the solution of which he will have not so much to do as the Ameer of Afghanistan.

In his card of retirement Gov. Buckner raps the silver fanatics over the head by saying he will "continue to advocate the platform as construed by every member of the party at the time of its adoption." There is no doubt that the declaration was for sound money, even Joe Blackburn expressing himself very emphatically of that opinion.

The hairy heathen who runs the Blue Grass Blade is always in hot water. This time he is perhaps over his head. A U. S. marshal has him under arrest for sending obscene matter through the mails, an offense to which a heavy penalty is attached, if proven. The old man will die in jail yet if he doesn't look sharp.

The Lexington Leader is trying to scare 'em off in this wise, but Norman says it won't work: If General Hardin or anyone else goes following the republican candidate for governor around and attempts to interfere with him at his speaking appointments, there is going to be trouble, that's all.

HARDIN was enthusiastically received at Winchester, where he sensibly said nothing about free silver. Perhaps he has accepted the central committee's appeal for harmony and laid his opinions on economic questions on the altar of democracy. Let us hope so at least.

BIG DINNER.—Mr. and Mrs. J. A. HARRIS had a family re-union Tuesday and spread an excellent dinner in honor of Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Arnold. Fifty-two persons were present, among the number five children, three sons-in-law and one daughter-in-law, 24 grand-children and one great grand child.

IN our notice of Stanford last issue, "Danks, the jeweler" said we overlooked the fact that he has the most up-to-date jewelry establishment in the country and Mr. B. K. Wearen kicked because we didn't tell of his large carriage and farming implement business. The musical instrument establishment of P. H. Idol was also neglected. In fact as many as we showed last issue, there seems to be as many more.

BALL BROUGHT BACK.—At the last term of court here John Ball, of Lancaster, was tried for running a gambling scheme at a picnic at Green Briar Springs, when the jury hung. The judge gave him bail in the sum of $500 and his brother-in-law, Col. W. Huff Dudderar, went on his bond. A recent issue of the Courier Journal contained a dispatch from Lancaster stating that Ball had skipped and as soon Col. Dudderar read the lines he thought of the money he would likely have to hand over and at once decided to catch him if he could. He got wind of his being in Woodford county and sent his son, Sam, to have him arrested and brought here. His orders were obeyed and on Monday night's train Constable Wilson brought Ball here and placed him in jail, where he now is. The colonel is in much better spirits since the arrest and really looks like a different man.

The first session of the Female College under Dr. William Shelton opened with 65 pupils and the Academy with Prof. F. J. Duffy assisted by Miss Mattie Paxton with 22.

THERE were a good many moonstruck people in town Tuesday night. The night was perfectly clear and every phase of observation from the slightest beginning till the shadow passed off could be seen.

A CIRCUS is bearing down on this part of the State, but as usual Stanford will be given the go-by. It has been so long since we had a circus that everybody has forgotten which was the last that pitched its tent here.

A LOUISVILLE masquerade has been fined $15 for flirting in one of the parks. Stanford dudes, who intend visiting the city next week, should eschew that divertimento or take an extra amount of money with them.

THE L. & N. will run a special train from Rowland to Louisville next Thursday 12th, at $2.10 the round trip. Leave Rowland at 5 A. M., returning leave Louisville at 11 P. M., thus giving those who go a chance to get a full view of the G. A. R. doings. J. S. Rice, agent.

FOURTEEN dog owners were fined $1 each and costs and forced to pay the license on their canines at Danville. We commend this example to the Stanford authorities. There are enough dogs here, judging by the hideousness that they give to night, to pay off the city debt if their owners were forced to pay the license. Let it be done.

BURGERS got in their work at Mr. W. P. Tate's Monday night. They broke into a back room in which the family's winter clothing was packed, and got three overcoats belonging to Mr. Tate, besides a new pair of boots and his underclothing. Mrs. Tate also lost some underclothes and Mr. C. E. Tate 25 pounds of Casey tobacco that he was saving to smoke. No clew.

THE democrats are called to meet at their respective voting places to-morrow afternoon, 7th, at 2 P. M., to name delegates to the county convention to be held here county court day, 9th, to nominate a candidate for school superintendent. Each of the Stanford voting places is entitled to three delegates each; Crab Orchard, No. 1, 3, No. 2, 2; Waynesburg, No. 1, 2, No. 2, 1, No. 3, 1; Hustonville, No. 1, 3, No. 2, 2, No. 3, 3. Total 29.

IT was 21 years ago last Wednesday that Mr. Joe F. Waters, then a beardless, tow-headed boy, began an apprenticeship in the office of the Interior Journal, to which he still holds faithful allegiance. He has given it such good service that the editor and the devil together could be better spared than he. His flow of good humor is inexhaustible and if he ever gets mad he keeps it to himself. Long may he live and grow in grace and good work.

THE Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias of this State meets at Somerset week after next and that little city has already begun to make preparations for the occasion. On the evening of the 19th there will be a grand pyrotechnic display and during the meeting there will be hope, banquets, and the like galore. Diadem Lodge No. 81, of this place, is entitled to two representatives in the grand lodge, but it is very probable that the members will attend in a body.

Mrs. HENRY MILLS, who ran off and got married a week ago, sent us a souvenir of her trip in the shape of a pretty little bouquet yesterday, by her new mother, with the request that we correct the statement that her husband is a "sanctification" preacher. He is a member of Dr. Taylor's church in Danville and wants to be a Methodist preacher, and to that end will go with his wife to the Winchester conference for examination. The youthfulness of the pair was the only objection to the marriage. They are both 17, the groom being but six weeks older than his bride.

—To make burgoos for the G. A. R. at Louisville next week it will require approximately 40 beehives, 200 sheep, 300 shoats and 4,200 pounds of beef shanks, 672 fat hens, 3,600 ears of corn, 140 bushels of potatoes, 24 bushels of onions, etc.

—Asked by a young lawyer why he did not enlarge his decisions, Judge Duffy, the republican freak, said, "I am not running a kindergarten for young lawyers. If they want to know the law supporting the opinions, let them look it up as I did."

—Ally still holds the trotting record at 2:03.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—William Williams, 21, and Miss Sarah Walls, 20, were married at Kingsville on the 5th.

—A runaway couple in Ohio got a justice to marry them in the hay field in which he was working and while he had his coat off and sleeves rolled up.

—The engagement of Miss Gertrude Vanderbilt and Mr. Moses Taylor is announced. The great fortune of Miss Vanderbilt is almost matched by the millions of Mr. Taylor.

—Will Rochester, a married man of 22, fell desperately in love with a young girl and having been ordered off by her father, drew a pistol and saying, "I die for love," put a bullet in his heart. He lived in Knoxville.

—Miss Mary M. Dudley, second daughter of the Rt. Rev. Bishop T. U. Dudley, and the Rev. James Kirkpatrick, rector of St. George's Protestant Episcopal church, of Pittsburgh, Pa., were married Wednesday at Middleburg, Va.

—The marriage of Tyson C. Bell, the bright young local editor of the Georgetown Times to Miss Fannie Moore, a lovely young lady, was duly solemnized in the new Christian church at Georgetown, Wednesday. The pair left at once for Mackinac with the best wishes of hosts of friends.
